COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

SATURDAY EVENING, 6TH APRIL 1878.

A MORE stagnant week in business than the one just past we have seldom had to report unless during holidays or in the middle of the monsoon. In imports transactions are quite on a retail scale, whilst export trade may practically be said to be at a standstill. It is daily becoming more evident that our Cotton crop is even less than last year, and of cereals there is only too good reason to believe that the yield will prove equally limited. So far the arrivals of the latter have been quite insignificant, and the harbour is full of shipping for which there is practically no employment available. Some idea of the state of matters may be gathered from the fact that even at the ruinously low rate of 15s. per ton, the steamers loading on the berth have found the utmost difficulty in obtaining cargoes, and charterers, who had engaged tonnage in anticipation of the usual activity in March and April, are put to the greatest straits to fulfil their engagements. Some people believe that we may yet see a more cheerful turn before the season comes to a close, but the belief is by no means general, and we must confess that, unless the political situation at Home is definitely arranged, the outlook has little of a hopeful character. Even with peace in Europe permanently assured, there are too many adverse influences at work to admit of anything like really active business, and our best hope of an improvement now rests in the chances of next season's crops turning out well.

MONEY.—The Market practically has undergone no change during the week. The Bank of Bombay's rates of discount remain at 8 per cent. on fixed and 9 per cent. on demand loans, while in the Bazaar loans on Government Securities are obtainable at 6 per cent. The discrepancy between the Bank and the outside market is accounted for by the fact of the former being affected by Government requirements, whilst trade, being so depressed at present, leaves a considerable amount of loanable capital available. The last published statement of the Bank of Bombay showed this very clearly, the Government Balance having been reduced by 24 lakhs against an increase of 28½ lakhs in Other Deposits, and in all probability the coming statement will show a repetition of the same movement. This renders it somewhat difficult to arrive at any very definite estimate as to the future course of the Market, as although it is pretty evident that trade requirements will be light it is impossible, with the question of peace or war hanging in the balance, to say how Government finance may be affected.

EXCHANGE.—The transactions in Sterling this week have been very limited in amount and rates have not fluctuated widely, although the general tendency has been weaker. For this mail business opened on Tuesday morning on the basis of 1s. 8 13-16d. for demand Bank and 1s. 9 1-16d. for 3 months' sight Credit Bills. On Wednesday a slightly easier feeling was apparent, but no quotable change took place in rates until Thursday, when the result of the biddings for Council drafts induced a decline of 1-16d. all round. The Market has remained quiet and unaltered since then, and closing quotations are accordingly as follows:—Bank Bills, on demand 1s. 8⅞d.; 6 months' sight 1s. 9 1-16d.; Credits, 3 months' 1s. 9d.; 6 months' 1s. 9 3-16d.; Documents, 3 months' 1s. 9 1-16d; 6 months' sight 1s. 9¼d. per rupee. At this level the Banks are willing buyers up to the end of the season, but by no means so ready to sell, indicating anticipations of an easier tendency in the future; and leaving out the effect of a possible war in Europe, there can, we think, be little doubt that the appearance of things is more in favour of a lower than a higher level of exchange. Silver possibly is in a somewhat better position than formerly, but on the other hand we have almost a certainty of an extremely limited export trade for the rest of this season, and the probability that the Secretary of State's drawings will be maintained on their present scale of 50 lacs per week so long as anything in the neighbourhood of present rates can be obtained for them.

On Calcutta there has been rather more enquiry for drafts this week, and demand has advanced to 3-16 for ¼ per cent. premium and 60 days' sight to 1 per cent. discount.

On China there is nothing doing, and the rate for 60 days' sight Mercantile Bills remains at Rs. 218 per 100 dollars, nominally.

From Hong Kong the latest quotation for 6 months' sight Bank Bills on London is 3s. 4d. per dollar and from Shanghai 3s. 4¼d. per tael.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—In the early part of the week the tenor of the Home telegrams produced a very depressed feeling, considerable anxiety was shown to sell and prices gave way about ¼ per cent. Since then rather more confidence has been apparent, and a recovery of ¼ to ½ per cent. must be quoted from the lowest point. To-day's quotations are:—Fours, Rs. 93½; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 93¾; Five-and-a-half, Rs. 102¾ to ¾.

SHARES.—The general depression in business has naturally had an unfavourable influence on the Share Market, and with only a very small business doing prices have, in most instances, gone again in favour of buyers. In Banks very little transacting has occurred. Bank of Bombay's gave way ½ per cent. in the beginning of the week, but have since recovered to the previous level 3634 per cent. premium. Nationals have receded to Rs. 106, Agras are steady at Rs. 126 per share. In Land Companies there is nothing doing, pending some further development of the negotiations with Government for the foreshore properties. In the meantime there has been a further decline in the value of Colabas of Rs. 30 and in Mazgaons of Rs. 50 per share. Press shares are not much dealt in. Colabas have declined Rs. 50, but there is an advance of Rs. 15 in Mofussil and Rs. 5 per share in French Press and Sassoon. Spinning and Weaving Companies again show a material fall, and not altogether without reason, as the demand for our local manufactures becomes daily more limited. Our list of quotation show a decline of Rs. 150 in Bhownugger Mills, Rs. 60 in Central India, Rs. 50 in Albert, Alexander, and Prince of Wales, Rs. 35 in Dharumsey, Rs 25 in Alliance and Shoolapore, Rs. 20 in Morarjee Goculdass and Soondercoy, Rs. 10 in Bombay Hemp and Jute, Hindustan and Jewraz Balloo, and Rs. 5 per share in Broach Mills, Colaba, and Manockjee Petit. The only advance noted is Rs. 5 per share in Orientals. Amongst Miscellaneous Companies there is no movement of any kind to notice. G. I. P. Railway stock is quoted at Rs. 274 per £20.

PIECE GOODS.—No appreciable change has taken place in the position of the Market, and perhaps the best that can be said of it is that it is no worse. Prices are practically the same as quoted last week, and about the same scale of business has prevailed, the estimate of the clearances from first hands being 350 packages and from the Bazaar 1,200 packages of all kinds. Supplies of most descriptions continue ahead of current requirements, and the shipments from the U. K. for the month of March are large for Bombay and very heavy for Calcutta. This does not promise well for the future which was already unpromising enough owing to the prevailing distress up-country, and we can only now hope that next Monsoon may prove propitious and result in good harvests throughout the country, as there is apparently no other quarter whence any improvement can arise.

Of Grey Shirtings the clearances continue small. In 39 inch some demand prevails for 4¼ lb. and 5¼ lb., but 6 lb. to 9 lb. are dull and somewhat difficult to move. For 44 inch and wider makes the demand is very limited. In Madapollams some little business has been done at about last Mail's rates, and Jaconets and Mulls are fairly saleable. Dhoties maintain about previous values, and the same may be said of Printers, while Longcloths and Domestics remain almost unsaleable. In Bleached Goods only a very small business has been done, and rates are not quotably altered. Dyed and Printed and Turkey Red Goods remain depressed and only saleable at a considerable sacrifice from original cost. Local Goods only meet a retail demand, and stocks are still on the increase.

TWIST.—Our list of quotations remains nominally unaltered, and only a very limited business has been done. Both of English and Local made Yarns, stocks are very liberal as compared with the extent of the demand, and as in Piece Goods it is evident that any improvement is still a long way off.

METALS.—Copper.—A very small business has been done, and the Market is dull at former quotations. Yellow Metal is in poor demand, and on the spot prices are As. 6 per cwt. lower. In Iron there is no quotable change, but the demand is slow and the tendency if anything, weaker, owing to the large stocks on the spot.

COALS.—The strong speculative demand which we noticed last mail continued during the earlier portion of this week, and prices further advanced As. 8 per ton, but few transactions took place at the enhanced rates, and latterly, with somewhat more pacific telegrams, buyers have evinced less disposition to operate. On the bonder transactions have been few, and to arrive they have been limited by the limited supplies offering. We hear of the sale of a cargo of Cowpen West Hartley to arrive by sale at Rs. 19 and a cargo of Langhurst West Hartley at the same rate, a cargo of Glasgow Longrigg at Rs. 16½; and a cargo of Cowpen in harbour has been offering at Rs. 19½ without leading to business. The following are to-day's quotations to arrive either via Cape or Canal:—

Davison's West Hartley	Rs. 19	per ton alongside.
Gambois Cowpen	,, 19	,,	,,
Laird's Welsh Hartley	,, 17½	,,	,,
Watson's Hartley	,, 17½	,,	,,
Cardiff	,, 19	,,	,,

COTTON.—The Liverpool telegrams in the early part of the week reported great depression, owing to the unfavourable aspect of political affairs and continued heavy receipts at the American ports, and for a time the greatest stagnation prevailed here, buyers only operating to cover immediate shipments. Owing to the scarcity of supplies, however, combined with cheap freights and easier exchange, rupee prices did not give way, and within the past two days, the Liverpool Market having shown an upward tendency, a recovery of about Rs. 3 to Rs. 4 per candy has taken place, and a considerable business has been done for export. Sellers, however, by declining to meet the market prevent anything like animation in operations, and looking to the character of the reports from up-country this same state of affairs seems likely to prevail up to the end of the season. Already in the Omrawuttee districts there are unmistakeable symptoms of the crop falling off, and with Hingunghaut and Peorah exhausted and Comptah and Dharwar not likely to be available before the monsoon, we will be left to draw the bulk of our supplies for the remainder of the season from the Dholleras districts. What those are likely to be may be best inferred from the fact that the most reliable reports only put the entire Dholleras crop down at about one-fourth of an average yield, and this estimate we have even reason to believe is correct. Up to the present time the entire arrivals of New Dholleras into this Market, do not make a total of more than 1,000 bales as against probably 20,000 bales in a good season, and judging from this the probability of our season's exports equalling last, becomes somewhat remote. Up to date the actual sailings are slightly ahead of last year, but if we reach a total of 700,000 bales for the six months it will be more than present appearances promise

The purchases of Cotton during the week in Bombay alone amount to about 10,000 bales in all, consisting of about 1,200 bales Old Dholleras and 500 bales New Comptas for local consumption, 500 bales New Ginned Broach, 700 bales New Dholleras and 7,000 bales New Omrawuttee, for export.

The Receipts from up-country during the week have been 31,720 bales against 33,978 bales last week and 67,716 bales for the corresponding week last year. The total since 1st September now stands at 547,034 bales against 591,522 for the corresponding period last year. The Overland for sea since last mail left have been 39,938 bales, making a total of 315,479 bales since 1st January against 366,077 bales for the same time last year.

The following are to-day's quotations for Cotton with equivalents in Sterling Cost and Freight to Liverpool, via Canal, without commission:—

SEEDS.—Linseed has been in very active request throughout, and stocks being insignificant, prices are again As. 4 to As. 5 per cwt. higher, to-day's quotation being Rs. 6-14 to Rs. 6-15 per cwt. The crop is evidently not only late but deficient, the general estimate now being 50 per cent. of a full average, whilst the quality is decidedly inferior. Cotton Seed supplies are comparatively more liberal than of Linseed, and prices accordingly have not moved during the week, to-day's rate for Yellow Guzerat being Rs. 7-13 per cwt. The crop, however, is also short and inferior.

WHEAT, suitable for export, is only coming in very slowly, and scarcely anything has yet been done. Prices which are to a great extent nominal may be given as follows:—Best White, Rs. 40; Mixed, Rs. 37 to Rs. 39; Red, Rs. 35 to Rs. 37 per candy.

GREAT are the mysteries of trade in India. A few weeks ago the G. I. P. Railway could not carry the traffic offering at the stations; there seemed to be every prospect, on account of the high prices ruling for all kinds of produce, that the quantities of goods to be carried by the company would go on increasing; and the Bombay Chamber of Commerce was bombarding the Government with demands for more waggons, as the rolling stock of the railway had not kept pace with the development of trade. Last week the tide turned. It is suddenly discovered that the cotton, grain, and seeds crops have failed, and that, such as they are, there is little or no demand for them in Europe. The consequence is that the railway traffic has fallen off tremendously, and seems likely to come to an untimely end. It is curious that the European merchants should not have foreseen this extraordinary collapse.

ON the retirement of Colonel Annesley, who has been appointed Aide-de-Camp to the Duke of Cambridge, Major Garnett gets the command of the 11th Hussars, and Captain Rivett-Carnac, Military Secretary to the Governor of Bombay, becomes senior Captain of the regiment, the two Captains above him on the list retiring.

THE Government of Bombay have determined to establish a rest camp for native troops at Egutpoora.

ORDERS have been issued for the despatch of the remnant of the 2nd Belooch Regiment in Kurrachee to join the regiment at Rajanpore.

A CORRESPONDENT writing to the Madras Mail from Ramandroog on the 3rd instant, says:—"A vast cloud of locusts has just (3 p.m.) passed over the Droog going westward. They darkened the sky; and the hills in the direction they went were rendered invisible by the density of the mass. The stream was, I should say, about 400 yards broad and about 15 feet thick; and swept continuously over the Droog for full fifteen minutes."

THE following report of an outrage on a European lady will be read with general indignation. The lady alluded to is, we fear, Mdlle. Olga Duboin, who, it is known, has been travelling in Central India lately. The victim of the outrage is described as a French lady, whereas Mdlle. Olga Duboin is of Russian extraction, but as it is also stated that she is from the Leipsic Academy, where the lady we have named was educated, we conclude that she it is who was so shamelessly maltreated. We take the account from the Madras Times:—"A disgraceful affair took place at Kamptee the other day. A French lady, a renowned pianiste, from the Leipsic Academy of Music, visited the station for the purpose of giving a concert, and while taking a walk in the evening on one of the public roads was set upon by private soldiers of the 33rd D W. Regiment attacked and maltreated her. The poor lady was helpless, and her cries brought a Government lascar to her assistance, and thus prevented further maltreatment. Upon the arrival of the lascar the men ran away. Both the ruffians have since been identified, and are now in prison awaiting trial. General Walker, commanding Nagpore force, in his remarks in district orders (dated 13th March) says:—On Sunday (10th) night two soldiers, 33rd Regiment, attacked and maltreated a helpless and unprotected foreign lady, who came to Kamptee for the purpose of giving a concert, and who fully expected that from British soldiers she would receive respect and support instead of attempted robbery or worse. The Brigadier General greatly regrets that he is unable to bring both of her cowardly assailants to justice; one of them, however, he hopes to have punished as he deserves. These men are a disgrace to the uniform they wear and number they bear, and such the Brigadier-General feels sure is the opinion of their comrades. Men who attack helpless unarmed women are sure to be wanting when called on to attack an armed foe."

A NEPHEW of the King of Burmah, named Moong Lat, who has resided for some years as a State prisoner at Cannanore, was baptized by the Chaplain of that station, on Sunday week, in St. John's Church, in the presence of the congregation assembled for evening service.

THE falling off in the trade of Calcutta in European piece-goods is well shown by the fact that the value of such goods exported from Calcutta to Bengal and other parts of India in February last was only Rs. 89,53,818, as compared with Rs. 1,00,10,069 exported in February 1877.

THE Madras Times:—Sir Salar Jung's position among his co-religionists will be enhanced by the order of the Medjidie which has been conferred upon him by the Sultan. We do not imagine that the British Government can object to the bestowal of this Order, though it would perhaps be as well if powerful Ministers of strong feudatories were led to look to the Empress of India as the sole fountain of honour. How it would look to the Russians in Central Asia if the Khan of Khiva or his chief Minister were made a Grand Master, or even a Companion, of the Star of India?

THE Indian Daily News hears that the Government of India have recommended to the Secretary of State for the grant of a special pension of Rs. 6,000 per annum,—the highest pension granted to an uncovenanted officer,—to Mr. G. W. Kellner, C.S.I., Accountant General, Military Department, who is about to retire from the service, on the groundof his long and especially useful services to the State, which, it appears, have been favourably commented upon by every individual member of the Viceroy's Council.

THE Government of Bengal has enquired whether Mr. E. Roper Lethbridge, whose services were temporarily placed under the Government of India in the Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, can now be restored to the Bengal Education Department.

THE Statesman—Not the least questionable feature in the abolishing of the Directorship of Public Instruction in the N.-W. Provinces is the gift of a personal allowance of Rs. 500 per mensem to Mr. Kempson's successor, Mr. Griffith. This very nearly, but not quite makes that gentleman's salary equal to his predecessor's. As nothing is said on this part of the subject in the Government Gazette, the public may naturally ask why that personal allowance was given. What did Sir George Couper expect to get for that which, coming from him appears at first sight to indicate such unwonted generosity? The answer is obvious. This allowance of Rs. 500 a month is practically hush-money. Mr. Griffith is to be paid this sum to hold his tongue, for he has been more deeply injured than any officer in the North-West, and if he were to speak up, the consequences might be dangerous to Sir George Couper. The injury to individual officer is prospective rather than immediate, and no one can put down on paper the exact amount which he may have to bear, though he may be able to form a very fair idea of what it will ultimately be. But the extent to which the department must suffer is seen at a glance, and every officer of the department must bear his share of it, though it may be impossible to say at present what that share will be. Plainly, it is Mr. Griffith's part to point out to the Government of India, and if needful to the Secretary of State, that the department has been mocked by being offered a scheme of redress which by being cancelled has been made illusory, and that his subordinates will have been treated with great injustice unless the promises made to them in order to induce them to enter the department are carried. Sir George Couper is afraid lest Mr. Griffith should expose this transaction with all the telling incisiveness of the clear thinker and ripe scholar. Hence this discreditable attempt to gag him. We do not believe for a moment that Mr. Griffith will be silenced thus. His acquiescence in the present arrangement can only proceed from a conviction of the hopelessness of any appeal to the sense of justice of the Government of India. Still we should have been glad to hear that he had flung the money back in Sir George Couper's face, and put himself at the head of the agitation which is sure to ensue.

THE Englishman:—Indian research owes a debt of gratitude to the little group of French scholars who annually bring under review the modern aspects of Oriental development. M Garcin de Tassy has it in his power every year to draw nearer the bonds between French and Anglo-Indian scholars, or to widen their differences. Frenchmen look at subjects from a point of veiw of their own, and have sometimes little sympathy for the slower and less regular constructive processes of English scholarship. It is to the honor of M. de Tassy that his Revue Annuelle does more than any other single influence to keep alive an active sympathy on the part of highly educated Frenchmen for English efforts to educate and ameliorate the Indian people. We have nothing in the English language which can compare with his yearly narrative of those efforts. His lists of Hindustani works would alone render his annual volume of great value. But the spirit in which the work is done seems to us to be of not less importance. M. de Tassy, as a member of the Institute of France and the leading authority on the modern Indian languages, addresses not only his own countrymen, but all Europe, and his position as President of the French Asiatic Society gives a special weight to his words. Such a writer might do Indian research a great deal of harm. Without any actual misrepresentation, his narrative might be conceived in a partisan or an unsympathetic spirit, which would place us at a disadvantage throughout Europe. M. de Tassy writes in precisely the opposite spirit. He cordially sympathises with our efforts to educate and develop the Indian races, to preserve the memorials of their ancient learning, and to encourage a revival of their former intellectual activity. He gladly recognises each successful result which we attain, and when he has to mention failures, he is generously eager in his appreciation of the difficulties which precluded success.

THE Lord Chief Justice of England has made a stand against stupid juries. At the Lewes Assizes, a few weeks ago, the jury, after long hesitation and after raising some curious quibbles with respect to the evidence, found the prisoner "Guilty," but with a recommendation to mercy, and at the same time represented that, having been occupied with the case the whole day, they had a claim to be discharged. The Lord Chief Justice replied: "By all means, gentlemen. A jury who could hesitate so long in so clear a case, and then recommend the criminal to mercy without any ground whatever, must be a jury with whose services I should be most anxious to dispense; so I have the greatest pleasure in discharging you."

MAIL SERVICE BETWEEN BOMBAY AND THE PUNJAB.

A RESOLUTION of the Government of India in the P. W. Department has been issued, detailing measures proposed for remedying the detention of the Mail service between Bombay and the Punjab. The only efficient way of remedying the causes of complaint seems to be for the East Indian Railway to run a fast train leaving Allahabad at 7-30 a. m. and reaching Ghazeabad 1-30 a.m in connection with the fast Sind, Punjab and Delhi Railway train leaving Ghazeabad at 2-30 a.m. and arriving at Lahore at 8-30 p.m., also for the Down Mail Train leaving Lahore at 5-30 a.m. reaching Ghazeabad at 11 30 p.m. and Allahabad at 6-30 p.m. With reference to these proposals the Consulting Engineers for Guaranteed Railways, Calcutta and Lahore, have been instructed to invite the Agents of the two Railways concerned to give the matter their early consideration and introduce such changes as may mitigate, if not entirely remove, all inconveniences now complained of.

THE LICENCE TAX RIOTS AT SURAT —TWO MEN SHOT DOWN BY THE MILITARY AND SEVERAL WOUNDED.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

A MOB is anywhere, at all times and under every variety of circumstances, the representative of violence;—easily lashed into fury at the presentiment of imaginary wrongs, and eager to seek redress by high-handed means for grievances which the caprice, selfishness, or malice of some designing knave has shadowed forth to the minds of his unreasoning followers. At times the grievances may be more real than imaginary, but they are seldom traced to their right causes by the unthinking multitude; and for lack of judgment to guide or good sense to discern, means are adopted which, in well-constituted societies, are the very opposite of those calculated to secure the objects in view. And so it was with the mob of ten thousand persons which, on Friday morning last, sent a thrill through the city of Surat; and, in defiance of law and authority, took possession of its public streets from the Castle to the railway station. There may be something to plead on behalf of the peaceable and industrious classes, the poverty-stricken, distressed citizens whom want of occupation has deprived of those means of sustenance which, in more favourable times, were easily within their reach; and whose privations any additional taxation is very likely to aggravate and intensify. But in their desire to seek exemption from a burden which seemed to them like "the last straw that breaks the camel's back," the more ignorant and turbulent of their fellow citizens resolved to defy the very authority and influence whose assistance and protection they invoked. There may be something in their case to deserve pity—there can be nothing to excuse their lawlessness.

It was talked about the town of Surat on the afternoon of the 31st ult. that all the tradesmen intended to close their shops on and from Monday the 1st inst., in order to mark their dislike for the Licence Tax Act, which came into operation that day. The acting Collector, Mr. E. C. K. Ollivant, who but recently took charge of the office from Mr. W. R. Pratt, now on leave, and who was to go that evening to Sucheen, where his camp was stationed, and whence he had come only to see the Hon'ble T. C. Hope on his way back to Bombay from Baroda, made no his mind to stay in Surat. On Monday morning, the 1st inst., he rode through the city and found a great number of shops closed, but he observed that articles were being sold from the back doors of shops or from a board or shelf the front shutters that were kept open; and further that very little incongruence was felt by anybody in consequence. It was supposed the shops would be opened the next day, but the same state of things continued on Tuesday, the 2nd inst; the town being otherwise quiet. There was no sign or indication of a disposition on the part of the people to create a disturbance. The Collector went through the city, explained the scope of the Licence Tax Act to the people, pointed out to them the folly of the course they had adopted, and tried to persuade them to reopen their shops. On Wednesday, the 3rd inst., finding things in the same state, Mr. Ollivant renewed his endeavours of the previous day and called together the leading inhabitants in his office-room at the Castle. In deference to his suggestions, they agreed to try and persuade the people to desist from the foolish course they had taken and to get the shops reopened. That (Wednesday) evening a crowd of persons collected in the Castle compound, and on their expressing a wish to speak to him, the Collector went among them and spoke to them, explaining to them the scope of the Act and trying to induce them to reopen their shops. They apparently consented to do so and went away. Early on the morning of Thursday, the 4th inst., the Collector, on going through the city found, however, that all his efforts of the previous days had proved futile, and that the shops still remained closed. Again the principal citizens were summoned to meet at the Castle; and they again assured the Collector that they would exert their influence to get the shops re opened. The same day Mr. Ollivant issued a proclamation in Gujeratee, explaining the scope and requirements of the Act, and pointing out that the continued closing of the shops could result in loss only to the shopkeepers themselves. He also issued a notice to the effect that he had made arrangements to open shops near the Castle for the sale of the necessaries of life at the current market rates, and that anybody finding a difficulty in getting his supplies in the bazaar could make his purchases at the new shops. The same (Thursday) evening a large crowd again assembled in the Castle compound. The Collector went among them and spoke to them on the error of their ways. On this occasion, however, the crowd became noisy; and on Mr. Ollivant riding past them, surrounded him inside the Castle, mobbed him, and threw stones at him, none of which appeared to have taken effect, and followed him up to the Nanpoora Bridge (about 300 yards off) which leads to the bungalow, in which he resides with Mr Macpherson, the Judge of Surat. At this moment Meer Goolam Baba Khan, with the Hon'ble Mahomed Ali Rogay, of Bombay, who were driving in their carriage from the Nanpoora side, met the mob and addressed them, remonstrating with them upon their unwise proceedings, and advising them to behave peaceably and turn to their businesses. The mob was excited and did not follow the advice. At the bridge Mr. Ollivant took his stand, and with the assistance of a very few policemen detained the crowd there, and prevented them from going to the part of the town where Europeans reside. He eventually succeeded in dispersing a great part of the crowd, when Mr. Scannell, Superintendent of Police, came up from his residence at Nanpoora with some more policemen and succeeded in dispersing the rest of the mob. All was quiet in the city afterwards.

On Friday morning, the 5th instant, Mr. Ollivant, on passing through the city, found everything quiet, although the shops still remained closed. He completed arrangements to open temporary shops near the Castle and returned home to his bungalow at Nanpoora, which is about a mile distant from the Castle.

Meanwhile a serious disturbance broke out at the railway station. A large crowd went upon the premises of the Meer Goolam Baba Mills, situated in the vicinity of the station, and prevailed upon the workpeople to stop work. Having succeeded thus far, they went into the goods yard at the station and tried to induce the workmen to assist them in their object by absenting themselves from their work, and at the same time threatened to strike some tradesmen who were there to clear their goods, chiefly grain, in order to set up competition shops at the Castle under the directions of the Collector, and thereby to counteract the effects of the closing of the shops in the town. The railway police who were on duty at the station—ten or twelve sepoys under Inspector Nowrojee Mody—at once interfered to disperse the mob and to protect the grain and other goods lying there from plunder. The mob threw stones at the policemen, some of whom were hurt more or less; but when the missiles became rather fast and thick, they were told to draw their swords in self-defence. Members of the crowd, some armed with clubs and sticks, came up close to them; and the result was a fight, in the course of which, it is alleged on one side, though denied on the other, that two of the townspeople received slight sword cuts. Some of the railway policemen, including Inspector Nowrojee, also received slight injuries. The mob now gained considerable accessions to its numbers; and after consultation with the Police Inspector, Mr. Anderson, Assistant Traffic Superintendent, sent Mr. Ollivant a telegram, begging him to send the military to assist the railway police, who found themselves powerless to protect the station in the event of an attack being made upon it. Mr. Ollivant, on receiving the telegram, rode to the camp outside the city, and tried to get together a detachment of native soldiers.

The Superintendent of Police, on hearing meanwhile of the disturbance at the station, went there and dispersed the crowd, and was returning homeward, when, near the Clock Tower opposite the Parukh Dispensary, he found Mr. White, the Assistant Engineer in charge of the Taptee Bridge, and Mr. Younghusband, supernumerary Assistant Collector, being severely assaulted by the mob. He at once went to their assistance, but the crowd became so violent that these three European gentlemen, who were all on horseback, with two police sepoys, were obliged to enter the Parukh Dispensary for protection and to shut the doors. The crowd grew more vicious, broke down the parapet walls of the Dispensary compound, and threw into the building volleys of bricks and stones, breaking the glass windows and doors. They then surrounded the Dispensary, which is open on all sides. It was fortunate, however, that the city police inspector Jehangirshaw, who was also on horseback with the Superintendent of Police, eluded pursuit by the crowd and escaped, although pelted at. He soon reached the Castle and sent to the rescue of the three European gentlemen about fifteen men of the 17th Regiment N. I., who formed part of the Treasury Guard, which had been doubled the night before. Before the arrival of the military, however, the Superintendent of Police and his companions resolved to break through the mob, who were pouring upon them an unceasing volley of stones and bricks through the shattered doors and windows of the Dispensary. The Superintendent of Police had only a common sword of one of his men, while the other two gentlemen were unarmed. Mr. White was the first to venture out; but his horse, in jumping over a railing about four feet high, had a fall and threw the rider to the ground. Mr. White was severely cut in the face, it is alleged, by a brick thrown at him while he lay prostrate on the ground. He bled from injuries in the face and arm. He soon picked himself up, however, got on horseback, and succeeding in clearing the mob, he reached the camp and joined the Collector there.

After Mr. White's departure, Mr. Scannell and Mr. Younghusband, with the two policemen, were the only persons inside the Dispensary. The mob closed round and got over the verandas, some of them armed with clubs and sticks. The gentlemen rushed out of the building just as a fresh detachment of the police arrived. A few arrests were made; and the party were moving towards the Castle when the fifteen men of the 17th Regiment N. I., above referred to, came up under the command of a subedar. The mob, driven back, reformed into a packed mass and continued to throw stones among the military and the police, who got so much excited that the Police Superintendent had great difficulty in restraining them from firing. Under the circumstances it is stated that the sepoys behaved very well. The mob threw volleys of bricks and stones at them, and followed them up, shouting loudly as they proceeded. In this manner—the sepoys retreating and the mob following threateningly—the Kella Peit Bridge was reached, and then the police sepoys were ordered to fire blank cartridge into the crowd. The mob fell back at first, but seeing that the shots took no effect, they advanced again and recommenced throwing brick bats. The subadar of the military was knocked down, probably by a stone, and is now lying in hospital, and several of the sepoys, both of military and police, were also injured. At this crisis the military became very excited and enraged, and clamoured loudly for orders to fire ball at the mob, but as no Magistrate was present no order was given. The sepoys then took matters into their own hands, and fired, as they assert, in self-defence, several shots at random into the crowd. Five or six persons were wounded—two severely and others slightly—one of the slightly wounded being the son-in-law of Mr. Nanabhai Haridas, who was returning from school when he was shot in the hand. The effect upon the mob was now decided and instantaneous. They stopped shouting and fell back, and then began to disperse. The sepoys say they fired to save themselves from being knocked down. After this—that would be about eleven o'clock in the forenoon—a detachment consisting of about eighty men arrived with Mr. Ollivant and Mr. White. Mr. Ollivant walked through the city with the military behind him, dispersing crowds wherever he met them, and making about forty arrests. He returned to the Castle about three o'clock in the afternoon. Peace seemed then completely restored to the city that had been but a short time before a scene of tumultuous violence. Mr. Ollivant sent for the leading citizens, and spoke to them about what had taken place, exhorting them again to use their influence with their misguided fellow citizens to prevent a repetition of such disgraceful scenes as had just been enacted, and warning them at the same time that he was prepared to use specially stringent measures in the event of any renewal of disturbances. They then departed on their mission. Evening now set in, when quietness reigned everywhere. On Saturday morning Mr. Ollivant walked through the city, and found a few of the shops open. In the course of the day the remaining shops were opened, and the shopkeepers appeared to have been tamed down into submission to the power of the Sirkar.

The native public of Surat consider themselves to have been severely dealt with in the matter of the Licence Tax proceedings. They allege that, in the first place, the printed forms served upon them were so complex and of such an inquisitorial a character as to have frightened them as to the ultimate aim of the Sirkar; that disturbances similar to this had occurred in the city in previous years, when, as on this occasion, the ignorant masses assembled in large numbers merely to seek redress; but that the military never fired upon the inhabitants. In the case of the present disturbance, the influence of a native police inspector, who is a great favourite with high Government officers, numerous arrests have been made, on Friday and also on Saturday last, of persons who have had nothing whatever to do with the riots; and that many shopkeepers had been coerced to reopen their shops under threat of being arrested for complicity in the disturbances. But a formal investigation will determine the truth or otherwise of these statements.

THE BRAHMIN ELEMENT IN THE CUSTOM HOUSE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Nothing is more humiliating than to have to reply to the vagaries of those who read in ignorance and write in stupidity. It is a wise saw which says that to argue with such men is to cut blocks with a razor. This is exactly my unfortunate position in connection with a letter signed "A Renegade Preventive Officer" which appeared in the Times of India of yesterday's date. He does not find that the best paid appointments are in the incumbency of the Brahmins; he only sees that "Christians are well to the front in taking their share of the loaves and fishes." Perhaps they are, seeing that Brahmins do not indulge in such luxuries; but my contention was that they were well to the front in a little more than their share of the fat appointments and fat emoluments. On this subject "A Renegade Preventive Officer" is silent, but admits it to be a natural human feeling for a Brahmin to provide for his kith and kin. Just so; and he will find on examination that it is also a lamentable, if not a despicable, failing to so provide for them at the expense of the State and of others than Brahmins. Witness this fact as an instance: about six years ago there were about thirteen clerks in the Reporter General's Department, equally represented by the different sects of the native community. [What is now the fact? The work has since then been considerably reduced, and instead of making a proportionate reduction in the strength of that Department, about thirty-two clerks have been added to it, nearly all of whom are Brahmins—that "unfortunate class of public servants" according to the lights of Native Opinion. And, again, the Commissioner's recent head clerk was a Shanvi; upon his transfer to another Department a Brahmin clerk from the Account Department, on a salary of Rs. 80 per month, was pitchforked into the appointment on a salary of Rs. 175. Why was this? Verily echo answers, why? Will it be urged that none but Brahmins are fitted for the post? That none other can carry out the simple details of that Department? That none other is to be found who is senior in service and merit to a Brahmin? It seems to me that these questions will remain unanswered as long as these family appointments—to call them by no worse name—are allowed to exist in the Custom House. Despite their intriguing qualities the Brahmins, so we are told by "A Renegade Preventive Officer," make "valuable servants in certain offices;" this is an assertion which needs confirmation, so far at least as the Custom House is concerned. Their intriguing qualities are almost proverbial, and a remarkable recent proof we have received of it is from Damodhur Punth, of Baroda notoriety. That they are "valuable servants in certain offices," I readily concede; I shall even allow, what "A Renegade Preventive Officer" claims for them, that they are "intellectually gifted in some things;" but all this is foreign to the original question. What the public would like to know, and what the public have a right to know, is the why and wherefore of these family appointments which have been created within the last six or seven years for the Chitthpawan Brahmins. Something certainly is not right in all this, for the Brahmins fight shy of the question, and the would-be "Renegade Preventive Officer," who is no other than a Brahmin himself, rather than meet the subject boldly, harps upon the "intellectual gifts" of his confraternity who "make valuable servants in certain offices," &c. If this is all he has to sing in their praise, I would confidently advise him to print them in the vernacular papers and not in any of the leading papers which are read by the educated classes, for—

> "Such labour'd nothing in so strange a style, > Amaze the unlearn'd and make the learned smile."

AN ENQUIRY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Can you or any of your readers inform me whether the proverbs of Ali Ebn Abi Talebi have been translated into English? I have a copy of them in Persian and Latin, published at the Oxford Clarendon Press in 1806. The translation into Latin is by the Rev. Cornelius Van Waenen. Can any one tell me if this is a rare book?

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE GRANT COLLEGE MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the abovementioned Society was held at the Grant College Library on the 12th March, Mr. Atmaram Pandurung, Vice-President, in the chair. The annual address of the retiring President, Dr. Cook, was read by the Vice-President. From it we gather that during the past year nine ordinary meetings took place, at which some interesting papers were read before the Society, and discussed by members. Amongst those we would call special notice to as able contribution by Mr. Succaram Arjoon, on the pathology and treatment of leprosy. One by Mr. Pemuljee Bhicajee on the scientific application of certain preparations of arsenic and mercury in some surgical diseases of the arms, and adopted from the practice of a native hakeem. One of the most complete and interesting papers was that submitted by Mr. C. F. Khory "on the causes of the most dangerous forms of malarious fevers in the town and island of Bombay," the author made many valuable suggestions for the improvement of the sanitary condition of Bombay, and if the most practicable of them were carried out by the Health Department there is no doubt that the sanitary condition of this town would be much improved. Mr. de Gama's paper "on congenital cataract and its treatment" is full of original ideas, and well worthy of perusal. Mr. Ruttonjee Hormusjee, health officer of Ahmedabad, draws a terrible picture of the insanitary condition of the capital of Guzerat, and the impression left is not surprising that there should be considerable sickness and mortality in the place, but that even one health officer should be left to tell the tale.

The President in his annual address dwelt on the apathy shown by the younger members of the profession in Bombay to the proceedings of the society, and he trusted that during the ensuing year they would take for example, the zeal displayed at home by rising medical men, who find time amidst their arduous occupations to write papers for the medical and scientific societies, or at least attend their meetings regularly, and take part in the debates they may give rise to. He trusted that with the constantly increasing number of licentiates of medicine of the University of Bombay that the Grant Medical College's Society's importance and usefulness would follow in the same ratio, as by Union alone would they be able to cope with the formidable opposition they must meet with at their entrance into the medical career, from the large body of ignorant quacks who still hold an almost unopposed field in the city.

The Vice-President mentioned in terms of regret the loss the Society had sustained by the death of some of its most eminent members—Messrs. Carvalho, Bhow and Narayen Daje, Mesquita, R. C. Badhurjee, and R. J. Medireha.

The Society then proceeded to elect the office-bearers for the present year, Mr. J. C. Lisboa being elected President by a large majority.

BOMBAY PORT TRUST.

EXCERPTS from the Proceedings of a meeting of the Trustees of the Port of Bombay held on the 4th instant.

Read letter from the Deputy Conservator and Master Attendant, dated 23rd March, reporting that on 14th March the ship Dartford, while being taken from Government Dock moorings to sea in pilotage charge of Mr. Melling, fouled the Government hulk Auckland, whereby damage was done to both vessels. He forwards reports by the pilot and by the master of the Dartford, and states that, as the latter vessel proceeded to sea at once, it has been impossible to hold an enquiry. He reports that the accident appears to have been caused by on error of judgment on the part of Mr. Melling in starting the vessel with a shy wind, and by the stopper having jammed when the anchor was required to be let go afterwards. He states that he has admonished Mr. Melling, and that it will rest with the Superintendent of Marine to recover the cost of making good the damage done to the Auckland. Read minutes of members of Harbour and Pilotage Committee, recording the action of the Deputy Conservator is approved.

Read letter from the Acting Traffic Manager, dated 21st March, submitting an application made by Khuttow Dyal for a lease of 141 2-9 square yards of land on Mody Bay Imperial Estate near Carnac Bridge, for 10 years, at Rs. 1½ per square yard per annum. Read minute of members of Land Committee, stating that the lease can either be given up to 1883, or with the sanction of Government to 1888. Resolution: sanctioned for 10 years, subject to the approval of Government.

The Secretary reported that the full amount of interest due to Government for year 1877-78, Rs. 8,56,758-8-4, was paid in the Accountant General's office on 1st April, and that there remains a balance of Rs. 96,700 of surplus revenue available for the reduction of the capital debt.

TYPE-WRITER.—The Bombay Guardian says:—"We lately mentioned that we had received from readers of the Bombay Guardian a type-written letter. We have been using it constantly now for more than two months, and feel constrained to give a new testimony to the value of this machine. We had not the slightest conception that we should find it such a help as it proves to be. We are able to do about twice as much writing with it in a week, as we were able to do with a pen, and that with far less strain upon the mind. We infer that the mind is much more tasked in directing the muscles of the hand in writing, than it is in the more regular action involved in type-writing. This may be owing to the fact that in the latter there is a much greater variety of muscular play than in ordinary writing, all the fingers being engaged, and the action changing at every moment and there being a free movement of the arms.
